

Media Release

July 22, 2009

GLISA International extends a hearty congratulations to the organizing team of the 2nd World Outgames.

As Copenhagen prepares to welcome over 5,500 athletes, human rights and cultural participants from 100 countries around the world to the 2nd World OutGames being held July 25-August 2, 2009, GLISA would like to congratulate the organizing committee of the games for their hard work in creating a truly global event.

Participants will come from all corners of the globe for seven days of festivities celebrating 'Love of Freedom and Freedom to Love.' With support of organizations like HIVOS International, many participants will come from developing countries, with special emphasis on Eastern Europe and the Middle East.

GLISA International looks forward to welcoming its members and participants around the world to a week of sport, culture and human rights. Congratulations Copenhagen!

To facilitate information exchange during the 2nd World OutGames, GLISA has launched a new website with a number of new communication tools. Follow the action at www.glisa.org.

-30-

For further information contact:

Julia Applegate
Co-President
GLISA
Julia.applegate@glisa.org
www.glisa.org